Colour Descriptions

Read the descriptions for each of the four colours below. Use these descriptions to complete section B: True Colours Word Cluster.
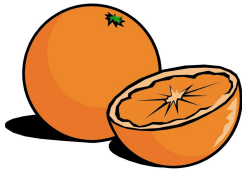

Green
Green expresses itself as the will in operation, as perseverance and tenacity. Green is predominant in nature; it reflects abundance and creativity. Green is living, growing, developing. It is a striving for perfection, a reaching toward the sky, a developing of one's own potential, and a reaching toward knowledge of the truths of creation. Green represents complexity, fullness of life, and harmony with the environment.

Blue
Blue represents complete calm. The blue of the sky corresponds to serenity and peace, to tranquility and contentment. The blue of the ocean corresponds to cleansing and completeness, to loyalty and depth of feeling. Blue is balanced, harmonious and tension-free giving a feeling that is settled and secure. Blue represents completeness, unification and the sense of belonging. Blue suggests aesthetic sensitivity, empathy, and meditative awareness.

Orange
Orange is energetic life. Orange represents activity and vitality; it is vibrant, obvious, and immodest. Orange is action energy, and danger. Orange represents a yearning for the next, an aggressive lust for action, and drive for success. Orange commands attention! Orange is now.

Gold
Gold represents the security and value of the precious metal gold, the need for worth and value, the importance of purity. Gold needs to be responsible, to fulfill duties and obligations, to represent organization and structure. Gold reflects practical sensibility, punctuality, and the belief the people should earn their way in life through hard work and service to others. Gold reflects a need to belong and the effort to carry one's share of the load in all areas of life. Gold is stability, maintained organizations, efficiency, a strong concept of home and family. Gold is faithful, loyal, and dependable.
